

I am quite concerned about the plan to allow media companies to own both newspapers and tv stations in the same area. The information we receive is already too homogenized, and the media already omit too much of what is important. The economic incentives facing media outlets are powerful. We need less centralization, not more. Please revoke this dangerous decision.

Sincerely,
Roni Neff